xantech

Multi-room audio distribution offers a lifestyle usually associated with luxury. Bulky electronics and big box speakers are gone and the freedom of listening to what you want where you want it takes on a new level. Xantech now introduces an opportunity for versatile multi-room audio distribution to our faithful customers.

Xantech is proud to present DIGI-5, a Linear Home Technology Group technology. Xantech DIGI-5 is a complete line of products that are simple to install, CAT5 based system that provides a full featured, fully distributed digital music system at the price of analog. Systems are configurable for single or multi-zone concurrent listening in four locations and are expandable to up to 16 locations. The new platform comes in multiple form factors such as a structure wiring module and an equipment rack model. Additional features include room EQ and local and shared source switching in each room. Whole house audio was never so good or so easy to install.
